Preface

This thesis is the result of my persistence and personal commitment to producing quality output and finishing whatever I started. It would, however, not have come into existence if it had not been for the support of many special people. The persons, who day in day out supported me in my professional and personal life, shared the joy of my achievements and made lighter the burden of my setbacks.

Ben Emans, I thank you for always having encouraged me and for being able to see the positive even at the hardest stages of the research process. I am grateful to Manda Broekhuis for always having a different take on things. I am especially thankful for the very candid personal contact and advice, and for being able to talk well beyond the work issues. My promoter, Eric Molleman, I have always appreciated your fast and insightful feedback and sharp, to-the-point approach, besides, thank you for always finding time to help, even though you are always busy. Manda, Ben and Eric, sometimes meeting the three of you around the same discussion table was leaving me deeply perplexed by the number of opinions and ideas, but the three of you have always inspired me, and have been a perfect team to work in. I would like to thank the members of the promotion committee, Prof. Dr. Janka Stoker, Prof. Dr. Jen Algera and Prof. Dr. Hans Hoekstra for their willingness to read the manuscript and for their input. I thank the organizations/companies that let me collect the data for my research and their people for being cooperative and frank.

I would like to thank Adriana and Johanna, my two good friends, for always being there for me, whether to help with the work or for an ‘emergency drink’. I thank Cesar for always sharing his optimism and helping out with statistics. Rien, I really appreciate your help and especially the long hours you spent in to put my questionnaires online. I thank Simon de Jong for always being ready to help with the analysis. I am grateful to Vincent for being a good friend and among other things for helping out with the Dutch summary. My work and life in Groningen would not have been as fulfilling and fun as they were without Fang, Irene, Andre, Binnur and Cagatay, Ben Kuipers, Alexandrina, Alessio, Tra, Mattias, Tamara, Mladen, Eugene, Ole, Jos van Kesteren, my student assistant Tanja de Jong, Goitom and many others. I thank Elli Boswijk for being very kind to me. My special thanks to Veselina, who is a friend and the best baby-sitter we have ever had.

My mother and my brother, the rest of my family, I thank you for being my special source of energy. Mama, thank you for teaching me that throughout our lives we learn to love. I am very grateful to Siska and Henk, and the rest of the van Kammen family for helping me feel at home in the Netherlands. Wytze, I thank you for having been my partner, my challenge and my mirror. Last, I thank my little Samuel for being my new driving force and making my life complete.
